Jannette,

I have very little information on the Detention Farm Lateral but what I do have is scanned and attached to this email. My understanding is that it was relocated at some point. The attached drawings of the relocation tell that same story although they are hard to read. Some of the documents that I have are not originals and are poor quality and the attached copies are darkened as much as was helpful. Please let me know if there is anything else that I can do to help.

Thanks,

Lori or Zach - Do either of you know about an old "Detention Farm Lateral" that is depicted on the attached map? Steve Cobb mentioned that he speculates there was some agreement with the interested parties before the canning plant was built or expanded that allowed for the lateral to be re-routed. I would greatly appreciate any assistance you can give us. Thank you.
